GRANT & PROSPERITY.
Business revives under the new regime. Other than general causes have, however, given a tremendous impetus to the sale of Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye,
Two chemists have come out in two leading scientific journals against the lead and sulphur poison for the head (or what is their proper designation) with which the country is infested. While Dr Chilton, the first analytical chemists in America, announces to the world that Cristadoro's Dye is Utterly Poisonless
so that he knows it to be so, because it has analyzed it, Cristadoro's Hair Preservative, as a dressing, acts like a charm on the hair after dyeing. Try it. 315-1m

The September Riverside is introduced by a fresh frontispiece from an artist better known by his paintings than by engravings from his designs, Mr George C Lambdin. The picture is called town and country, and is a good natured characterization of city and country children when brought face to face. Two old favorites reappear, Porte Crayon, with his picture and stories of Virginian life, and Abby Sage, with a new story from the old English poets, the sadly sweet Patient Griselda. The editor has given also on the last page of the Magazine a piece of music of the seventeenth century, a lullaby sung by Griselda.

The Schoolday Visitor for the present month is a good number—the short of it is, all the numbers are good—and as evidence of this statement the continued popularity of the magazine is a certificate from the highest public authority—the thousands of young patrons all over the country. Daughaday & Becker, Philadelphia, Pa.

DR. SAGE & Co.,
Gents—I am always reluctant to say anything in favor of patent medicines, but I have found your Catarrh Remedy such an effectual soother in those annoying attacks which we term colds in the head, that I take pleasure in testifying to its merits. Two or three applications have always removed the disagreeable symptoms, dried the weeping eyes and quenched the Bardolphian flames of the nose. If it possessed no other virtue its worth would be beyond price as a simple and effective antidote for the horrors of a cold in the head,
Yours truly,
GEORGE A MARTIN.

INDEPENDENT.

Among the goodly list of articles found in the Atlantic Monthly for September is one by Mrs Stowe—The true story of Lord Byron's Life. The production is freely criticised by newspaper writers and others, and some who have pretty freely expressed themselves seem at loss as to what opinions they themselves should entertain about Byron's course of life. The great question Mrs S writes upon is the difficulty between Byron and his wife; and she (the writer) claims to base her statements upon what lady Byron told her. Other writers have expressed their ideas about this matter, some on one side and some on the other, as to whether Byron was in the right or wrong. The article in the Atlantic is in sympathy with lady Byron, and because of its decisive character the friends or sympathisers with Byron have a great deal to say about the temerity of a woman thus freely criticising the character of so distinguished a man. The Atlantic contains its usual list of contributions by eminent writers on several of the great questions of the day. Like its predecessors this one is a good number. Fields, Osgood & Co Boston.

The Herald of Health for September abounds in instruction in regard to health matters and although its pages may not be read by masses of the people in this fast age, yet there are many thousands who do not only read but practice the doctrines the magazine is designed to diffuse everywhere, and the minds are of that class that embody a leading influence. Thus is the Herald an agency which is effecting untold good, and who can estimate the power it wields in behalf of a higher and better mode of living? Its monthly visits can be secured one year by sending Wood and Holbrook, publishers N Y, two dollars.

The lively and vigorous pages of Packard's Monthly for September, are but a continuation of the popularity and usefulness of this comparatively new magazine. Among the best popular writers contribute to its pages and their writings are read by thinkers not only of our own but other hemispheres. It is a special favorite of the young men, for whom it is more particularly designed. S S Packard, N Y.

THE NURSERY.—The name of this paper well indicates the class of little ones for whom it is designed, and nothing can better meet their wants, for the nice stories and well chosen pictures render it plain to them all. The September number is received. John L Shorey, Boston, Mass.

Hon J A Ambler has favored us with a copy of the proposed tariff bill, to increase duties on imports. It specifies a long list of articles, many of them very useless.

A Thrilling Incident at Niagara.

In the very center of the seething, whirling cauldron of waters known as the American rapids, lying equidistant between the American shore and the islands, and Bath Island Bridge and the brink of the falls, a rock projects two or three feet above the water. The eye rests upon it merely as upon a speck in the midst of this angry flood; with every dash of the torrent pouring down from the plateau above it is half submerged, and sometimes wholly hidden from sight. At the time of this casuality a log, three or four feet in length, had been jammed in or under this rock, and protruded from it. The spot was one that was in the daily sight of hundreds, and in the early hours of that memorable morning the first man who had an occasion to cross the bridge was startled and horrified to see a human form standing erect, in the midst of the raging, swirling flood, on this little point of rock, wildly waving his arms. He must have shouted, too, but his cries were drowned in the uproar of the rapids. It was Joseph Avery, the sole survivor of the unfortunate boat's crew. It was conjectured that the boat must have sped down to this point, unharmed by rocks or rapids, and that, striking here, Avery was thrown or sprang out, finding just room enough for a perilous foot hold; while the other two, with the boat, were swept over the cataract.

The alarm quickly spread. It is not difficult to draw a crowd at Niagara—for the excitement seekers of the world are there—and in half an hour the bridge and adjacent shores were thronged with horrified yet curious spectators. With them came some dozens of boatmen, laborers and others, who comprehended at once that there was a chance for rescue, and immediately began to devise a plan. In the meantime the man had been recognized by some one, and while the preparations were being made a large board was rudely lettered with the words, in German, "We will save you!" and held so that he could read it. He tossed his arms up and down several times, in token that he comprehended its meaning; and then the crowd awaited the result of the preparations, and watched the object of them with almost breathless interest. It was truly frightful to see him there amid that howling waste, almost in the jaws of the mighty cataract, and apparently cut off from all human aid. But as the day wore on and the poor fellow became used to the situation, he seemed to bear it with much composure. Sometimes, to change his position, he sat down on the rock, and sometimes made gestures to the crowd, the meaning of which could not often be understood. His face, seen through a glass, looked eager, almost beyond the expression of human faces, but it was hopeful, too.

As noon approached the first attempt was made for his rescue. A large raft had been constructed of heavy plank, bound together crosswise, and this was to be lowered down from the bridge, with strong ropes, to the castaway, when it was thought that he could be drawn up without great difficulty. The venture was a failure from the start. The rapids seized and whirled it away before the men at the ropes could check it; the ropes became entangled, the raft was carried far below the rock, and at last went helplessly over the falls.

It was a bitter, bitter disappointment—as well to the sympathizing, expectant throng as to the imperrified man. But nothing daunted, the stout hearts and ready hands immediately set about the making of another raft, while others were occupied in conveying food and drink to poor Avery. This was easily done in tin cases, attached to stout cords, which were floated down to him. The castaway eat his solitary meal there upon that inaccessible rock with keen relish, and then stood up and bowed his thanks. Again and again the cheering words, "We will save you," were exhibited, and he was encouraged by other short sentences in his native language, which were in the same way painted in huge letters and held up to him.

The afternoon wore slowly on—the long, hot listless summer afternoon there at Niagara, usually devoted to idling over iced drinks in the shade of the hotel porches or parlors, but now cheerfully given up to the assistance of, or sympathy for, a fellow being. There were hundreds in that crowd who, prompted by that spirit of American chivalry which is never wanting among us, would have cheerfully plunged in to his rescue, could the act have been any other than useless foolhardiness; and there were wealthy men there, who went through the crowd under the deepest sense of emotion, offering large rewards to whoever would rescue him. The telegraph had by this time, carried the news far and wide; the afternoon papers in New York contained it, and the afternoon trains from Buffalo and Rochester came freighted with hundreds more to view the peril of the poor German for themselves.

The building of the second raft progressed; but, although everything was done to hasten it, darkness found it unfinished, and the crowd unwillingly dispersed for the night. The Omniscient alone can tell how that poor, forlorn soul passed the dark, dreary hours that intervened before morning—sleepless from necessity—weary, lonely, with the waters raging like unchained beasts all around him, and the great abyss of terror yawning almost at his feet. Some sweet hope must have sustained him in that trying time, or the morning would have found him dead there upon the rock of his dreadful exile.

Daylight came, and with it the eager crowds hastened back to their points of sight. The incoming trains all that day brought more and more spectators, and before noon the bridge was literally crowded with them, leaving but a small space in the center for the workmen with the raft; and on either side the bank was lined—nay, packed—with spectators. There were thousands upon thousands present, all eager, curious and yet sympathetic. Avery appeared as on the day before, still hopeful, eating and drinking what was sent down to him, motioning with his hands and arms, and watching all that was done on the bridge and the shore.

The crisis of the excitement arrived when, about the middle of the second day, the second raft was launched from the bridge upon the hurrying flood. Strong and willing hands held the ropes, and it was cautiously lowered until it almost touched the spot where the castaway stood. With a bound he placed himself erect upon the raft; and then arose such a shout of rejoicing from the lips of that multitude that it was heard even above the roaring of the waters.

It was a short lived joy. The ropes were manned by all hands that could find place, and the raft struggled up a little way in the teeth of the rapids, and then a furious volume of water broke over and upon it, washing it from end to end, and hurling Avery bodily into the rapids! One faint, desperate hope remained to him: as the irresistible current hurried him down he might, by stout swimming, make the shore of Chapin's Island, some rods below, and to the west of him. It was a furious, terrible struggle for life, and while the multitude held their breath and looked on, it seemed at first as though the man might still save himself. He almost reached the shore of the little island but he never gained it. Some said that the bush upon which he laid his hand broke in his grasp, others thought that his strength left him when a few more strokes would have saved him. He yielded himself to the fury of the rapids, and an instant later his body was hurled over the fatal abyss, amid the shudders and groans of the heart-sick spectators.

Those who were nearest the spot where he went over were certain that his dying shriek, full of the horror of despair, articulated the name, Mary.—J. Franklin Fitts, in Packard's Monthly

Chicago National Convention.

The time is drawing nigh for the assembling of the national convention at Chicago to organize a national temperance party—a party of progress, and having for its object great and permanent results for the good of our whole country. We learn that the earnest temperance men of Chicago are doing all they can to prepare for a large gathering on the first of September, and we hope to be able to give some special details of arrangements in future numbers of the Era. We trust Ohio will be largely represented, and that her radical, uncompromising workers will turn out in full force. The convention must give no uncertain sound. We have had quite enough of conventions of the pleading and protesting character—it is now time that the temperance forces of the country, no insignificant body if united, should emancipate themselves from the thraldom of parties who give no heed to their wishes, and place themselves in such a position that, from the day the national convention closes, that every step will be one forward, every movement educational in that more powerful form which the political canvass and the ballot box ensures. Stability, efficiency in the temperance work are needed; not transient and fitful efforts, which give us a temperance organization (nominally so) to day in a town, which, in a few weeks or months dies out for want of something besides a mere sentiment to labor for. The Pennsylvanian Herald has some excellent observations in relation to the convention, platform, &c., and heartily endorsing them, we cannot do better than make them a part of this article.

"As the time approaches, we hear some earnest inquiry as to what will be the probable platform of the party? Will it be confined exclusively to the question of prohibition, or will it embrace other measures also, openly committing the party to a broad national policy.

Now, we know not how it may appear to others, but to our mind this is much the same as asking whether we will act like wise men or fools! As men of sense, we should know, that while prohibition of the liquor trade is paramount to all other questions, and the one which particularly demands our separate organization, yet it is by no means the only one upon which the good and welfare of the nation depends. And if we expect, as of course we do, to command the respect and support of the whole country, we must show that we are capable of appreciating and of wisely managing all the affairs of the government. To suppress the manufacture and public sale of liquor, should not be looked upon as the work of a few months or even years. And, although we know that such changes can only be attended with good results, yet as they will be stoutly contested by unscrupulous and thoroughly organized political forces, we should leave in the outset no valid reason why the party should not be entrusted with all the nation's wealth and honor for many years to come.

Two points of danger may be respectfully suggested in advance, as worthy of the consideration of those who propose to take part in the deliberations of the convention.

The first is, that of seeking to make the platform an omnibus for all real or imaginary reforms; and thus introducing discordant elements, to prevent harmony and unity of action. Our motto is Prohibition, with as many more good things as we can agree upon. But it will be well for us all to remember, that reformers, like singers, are said to be crotchety and slightly sensitive.

The second point of danger to which we refer, is the introduction of unimportant details relating to questions of finance, etc. We should not forget the practical and suggestive thought of General Grant on accepting the nomination for the presidency, that in these times "new political issues are constantly arising."

A clearly patriotic comprehensive platform, sound on all present vital issues, is all that can be reasonably demanded of us."—Temperance Era.

A YANKEE SCHOOLMASTERS DIARY.—Monday—Went to board at Mr. B——'s; had a baked gander for dinner; supposed from various venerable appearances to have been one of the first settlers of Vermont; made a slight impression on the patriarch's breast. Supper—cold gander and potatoes; went to bed and dreamed of having eaten a quantity of stone wall.

Tuesday—Cold gander for breakfast swamp tea and nut cake—the latter some consolation. Dinner—one leg, &c., of the gander done up warm. Supper—the other leg, etc., cold; dreamed I was a mad turtle, and got on my back and could not get over again.

Wednesday—Cold gander for breakfast; could eat nothing.—Dinner—wings, etc., of the gander warmed up; did my best to destroy them for fear they would be left for supper.—Supper—hot Johnny cake; felt greatly revived.

Thursday—Cold gander again; much discouraged to see the gander not half gone. Went visiting for dinner and supper.

Friday—Breakfast abroad—Dinner at Mr B——'s; cold gander and hot potatoes, the latter good; ate three and went to school contented. Supper—cold gander and no potatoes; bread very heavy and dry.

Saturday—Cold gander and hot Johnny cake for breakfast; did very well. Dinner—cold gander again; was weighed and found I had lost six pounds the last week; grew alarmed; had a talk with Mr. B——, and concluded I had boarded out his share.

THE ANNUAL MEETING at Clay's Mineral Spring, on last Saturday was a most pleasant and agreeable one. At an early hour crowds of people began to arrive at this romantic retreat, and continued to pour in, until sometime in the afternoon. Mr Wales, the president was not there, but on a journey to some distant place, but his place was well filled by Hon. Samuel Crider, one of the substantial and intelligent farmers of Tuscarawas township. The exercises commenced with music by a choir of ladies and gentlemen under direction of Prof. Ickes. And their excellent singing, so highly appropriate, and well performed, was a leading feature of the entertainment. No such social gathering can be a success without the aid of a song. Rev. Mr. Sinsabaugh, of Bethlehem, made an earnest and appropriate prayer, after the first music. Shortly after Rev. W. Lynch of this place, was called upon, who responded in a brief address, in which he alluded to the labors of the farmer, and the results thereof, as containing the most apt illustrations of many portions of scripture.

An interval of an hour was then taken, during which time a very general and genial discussion of a great variety of dinner prevailed. Groups were formed all around the springs, and each coterie enjoyed the luxuries provided in abundance by, we dont know how many good women. As everybody knows how to eat dinner, no instructions were needed here, and no doubt ample justice was done. Those who were too improvident, or could not conveniently bring their provisions along, were well cared for by such as did so—for there were wagon loads of eatables on the ground.

On reorganizing the meeting the president introduced Mr. Folger, who was appointed to deliver the annual address. As the speaker had selected a theme of very general and absorbing interest to his hearers, and especially to the citizens of Stark county in the vicinity of the Tuscarawas Valley,—a historical sketch of the same—all were very anxious to hear what he had to say. For Mr. F. has devoted much time in the preparation of his address, in which he embodied a vast amount of historical facts, commencing with a rapid outline of the first settlement of our state, pertinent allusions to the prominent men who took part in forming our first organic law, and other facts germain to the subject. He had proceeded thus far, and succeeded in riveting the attention of his hearers with unusual interest, and was just commencing the portion that most particularly interested every one—the early history of Stark county, when unfortunately for the progress of the meeting, the clouds which had been lowering and threatening, began to descend in rain, terminating in a copious shower. It resulted in dispersing the meeting,—proving a sad disappointment to both speaker and listeners. What measures may be taken hereafter to place Mr. Folger's address before the public, we have not yet learned, but there is an evident anxiety to know its contents, either by its delivery before a large audience, or put it in print.

The best of order prevailed during the proceeding, and nothing occurred to mar the harmony of the meeting. It consisted of a large concourse, made up of citizens from various portions of the county.

For many months the attention of the American and English people have been directed to an international boat race, or rowing match, which was to take place on last Friday on the river Thames, England. The contestants were known as Oxfords (Englishmen) and Harvards (Americans.) Preparations have been making for many months by both parties, and much interest was felt by the people of both nations as to the result. The contest took place on last Friday, and victory was vigorously contended for, which resulted in favor of the Oxfords, the Englishmen winning by six seconds in a race of over four miles. It is expected our men, the Harvards, will be for making another trial of their skill, for they came so near winning that another effort may crown them with success.

A gentleman passing along one of our public streets on Sunday morning was accosted by a woman who inquired of him whether he knew where her husband was. He had been absent from his home for many hours, and she suspected that he had fallen into bad company, perhaps became intoxicated, very probably was taken by the marshal, and put in the calabosse. The gentleman of whom these inquiries were made shortly afterward saw the marshal and ascertained that the man had been arrested and placed in the lock up. These things may go on daily among us, families may suffer and come to want, and anxious wives roam the streets in search of missing husbands, but we must say nothing about it—keep entirely quiet, nor mutter a half suppressed dissent, lest some heartless, aristocratic nabob of a doggery keeper gets his mad up and threaten to demolish everybody who whispers a word of reproof against his murderous doings. If we are expected, as chroniclers of the times, to make a note of the wonderfully smart pigs, the huge calves, the two headed sheep and a hundred more such things, consistency requires of us that we at least make a note of the fact of a fellow man fallen among those who have robbed him of his senses.

GEN. ROSECRANS' last letter, addressed to the democratic chiefs of this state, although it contains a portion of what that party claims is correct, yet there are other portions which are not more palatable to them than a dose of lobelia, and its reading will have a like effect, figuratively, on many a democratic stomach. It is not much better for them than his address to the Ohio legislature during the war. He advises the party t progress out of the antediluvian position which it has occupied on so many subjects—recommends the payment of the national debt (a hard dose)—favors free trade (an easier potion)—equitable legislation (a shot at our cop legislature for making black laws)—fewer officers (still another drive at the party)—and other questions of more or less importance. The Tribune says that the general, according to his professions in this letter, is not quite good enough to be a sound republican, but far too good to be a member of the democratic party. It is very likely that some of the more radical brethren of the cop democracy will be for turning him out of their church.

We are not in the habit of bragging and blowing as to what big things we are doing or expect to do, but prefer to let our works speak for themselves. Some who have very big notions of what they think a newspaper ought to be, may and perhaps do sneer at the comparatively small appearance of this paper, but that is no detriment, for a majority of our cotemporaries boast no larger dimensions; and no doubt the sneer of many a big notioned fellow has saluted them too—but such efforts don't put us down. And we are informed, too, by advertising canvassers, part of whose business it is to know the number of copies each paper circulates, that ours is equal to it not above the average in this respect. Our efforts have been, and will continue to be, to meet the wants of our patrons and the community in which we live as best we can; and as fast as we can with safety it is our design to make improvements. We hope to give every man who patronises this paper the worth of his money. In an unobtrusive way we shall pursue an independent course, and if we don't please every body, it shall not be for want of an effort, for he who tries to please all is very apt to be disappointed. The number of our patrons is increasing, and we shall endeavor to continue to deserve further encouragement.

Just as we go to press we learn that the new coal yard, located on the west side of the canal, north of the Main st bridge, has changed hands, and that our young friends, T H Seaman and E D Doxsee, have purchased the same, for the purpose of carrying on the business of retail coal dealers. Success to our enterprising young friends.

The funeral services of Mrs A. RICE who died at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr Mead, at Burbank, Wayne Co., will be held at the Presbyterian church, in this city, at 2 o'clock, P. M, to-day. The friends of the deceased are respectfully invited to attend.

Books will be open at the Cowan House, in New Lisbon, on the 30th of September next, for subscriptions to the capital stock of the Baltimore, Pittsburgh & Chicago railroad. The proposed route of this road is by the way of the Baltimore & Ohio and the Connellsville roads to Pittsburgh. From the latter place a new road to be built will enter Columbiana county at some point in St Clair township, and thence, via New Lisbon, to Toledo, O., and from that place to Chicago, via, the Michigan Southern road. By this route the distance from Baltimore to Chicago is 90 miles shorter than by any other road. The prospect for its early completion is encouraging.—Lisbon Journal.

We notice that Mr. Willis McBride has put up a neat small frame building adjoining Mr. Killinger's marble works, where he and Mr. M. Shafer soon design opening a depot for the sale of sewing machines. We hope their enterprise will prove a successful one.

Our community is promised with a forty column, first class, steam printed, ably conducted, by the best talent, paper, when a few ifs as contingencies are complied with. It will be a big thing for Massillon, but then we can stand that without grunting.

As was stated last week, the Union schools of Massillon commence on next Monday. Among the teachers the name of Prof Humer, instructor of the art of penmanship was omitted.

The old companies are ever harping upon the ratio of their expenses and in proportion to business done; whereas, to every person seeking insurance the fact that the profit and loss account is very important, taken together

The cost of insurance depends upon the vitality of the company in which you insure.

And the best proof of inherent vitality is the low ratio of claims in the past. Those wishing to procure valuable life insurance can do so by calling on JAMES H HUNT, Esq., at Exchange Bank.

PENOYER'S

Great Brazilian Remedy for

PILES.

The Latest Medical Discovery of the Age.

A Medicine that is Warranted to Cure,

And has no rival aside from surgical interferences, and then it proclaims itself the victor. This medicine has been thoroughly tested during the past three years, to satisfy all familiar with its merits, that it is not only a palliative, but that it actually removes the disease itself. The

Eureka Pile Remedy
OR BRAZILIAN OIL

is not only used locally (as principally all remedies, heretofore have been) but is also administered internally, which is the only rational theory, as the primary object in the cure of any disease, is first to remove the pain and then remove the cause. This is more readily accomplished by regulating the liver and kidneys, and imparting health and vigor to the mucous membrane of the whole alimentary canal. Beside the medicine is specific in its action, completely controling the circulation of the blood in the hemorrhoidal vessels. We warrant our compound to be purely vegetable. Simple and harmless in its action, as the most delicate tolerate it well. It corrects deranged neutrition or deficient circulation of the blood. In short, it makes the palid cheek bloom like the rose by imparting health and vigor to the whole system.

Massillon, O. July 13th, 1869.

To Suffering Humanity.—Persons who are suffering with the piles I would cheerfully recommend to use Mr J Penoyer's Eureka Pile Remedy. I have been afflicted with piles for 25 or 30 years, as many persons in Philadelphia where I resided for years are acquainted with the facts, undergoing the most painful feelings, trying several remedies recommended by physicians, but all to no purpose I gave up trying remedies, but was induced by a friend of Mr Penoyer's to try his medicine. I accepted a bottle and it gave me immediate relief, and I am satisfied it will make a permanent cure. I consider the Eureka Pile Remedy the best in use.

H W Anderson & Co.—Dear Sirs—My little son Harry, had been afflicted with Prolapsus Ani for several weeks, we had used other remedies, but with little success, he being worse when we commenced the use of your remedies than at any previous date, a few doses of your medicine relieved him in a few hours, and in less than four days he was perfectly well and has remained so. The Eureka Pile Remedy cured him.

Yours Respectfully,
SETH HOLINGER.

H W Anderson & Co.—This is to certify that I have been suffering for five years with piles, rendering life a burden, suffering more than I can describe. I had no confidence, but to gratify a friend, I procured some of Penoyer's Eureka Pile Remedy and I can cheerfully recommend it, as it has entirely cured me. I am as well as ever in my life.

S J BERKHOLDER,

Canaan, O. July 6, 1869.

Messrs. H W Anderson & Co.—Dear Sirs—Having been afflicted for upward of thirty years with piles I was induced to use Penoyers Eureka Pile Remedy, and from my own Experience and my knowledge of its effects on others, I can cheerfully recommend it to the public.

REV T H BARR.

Massillon, O. March 10 1869.

Mr J PENOYER—Dear Sir—I called on you last June and obtained some of your Pile remedy, of which I used one day and am entirely cured. I had been in a suffering condition for some time, I can recommend the same very highly to any one suffering in such condition as a sure cure.

Yours truly, T H STANSBURY.
Marble Cutter.

Massillon, O, Dec 14, 1868.

This certifies that I have been afflicted for quite a number of years with Piles, and have never before been able to affect a cure. I lately tried the use of Mr J Penoyer's Lozenges and have been greatly relieved by their use, and have every reason to believe that it is a very excellent medicine

Massillon, O. Dec. 14, 1868.

Mr J Penoyer—Dear Sir:—I feel it a privilege to acknowledge the cure of piles of from nine to ten years standing. After trying all other remedies I could hear of, and finding no relief, I then used your medicine only forty-eight hours and can say I am entirely well—never felt better in my life—and cheerfully recommend the medicine to all afflicted with the Piles.

WESTLEY DONALDSON.

Alliance, O. Nov, 16, 1868

Mr Penoyer—Dear Sir:—I have for some time neglected to acknowledge the receipt of your medicine. I took it as directed, and from that date am happy to say, I am perfectly well!—not the least troubled,

Yours truly
Z B JOHNSON, Union Livery.

Massillon, O. December, 17th 1868.

Mr J Penoyer—Sir:—I have been troubled with Piles for the past ten years, and have at last found a permanent cure in the Great Brazilian Pile Remedy.

Yours truly,
J H HARDGROVE,

Massillon, O, Nov. 27, 1868.

Mr Penoyer—Dear Sir:—I deem it but just to acknowledge the benefit I have derived from the use of your pile remedy. I have suffered for over fifteen years, and have spent, I think, one thousand dollars, and have never before found permanent relief. I am happy to say I am well—entirely cured—and can cheerfully recommend your medicine to all afflicted with the piles.

J W TRUITT.

Massillon, O. Sept. 9, 1868.

Mr J Penoyer—Dear Sir.—I consider it a privilege to acknowledge the cure of my wife from the use of your medicine. After using it one day she remained perfectly well. I can recommend it to all afflicted with piles.

J BEAN.

Hemetite, Jefferson Co. Mo.
January 1, 1869.

Mr J PENOYER—Dear Sir; I have used your Eureka Remedy, or Brazilian Oil, and find it a sure for piles. I have suffered with them for several years, and have tried numerous other remedies, but never had anything to relieve me so soon as your medicine has. I can truly say it cured me in less than twenty-four hours, and I have not been troubled with them since.

Yours, &c, SAMUEL ALLRTON.

Massillon, O, March 3, 1869.

Mr J PENOYER—Sir: I wish to say that one bottle of the Brazilian Pile Remedy has entirely cured my wife. She has been afflicted for years. We can safely recommend it to all afflicted as a sure cure.

Respectfully S. C. McDONALD.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:—I hereby certify that I am personally acquainted with Messrs Samuel Allerton, of Hemetite, Jefferson Co., Mo., John Bean, Massillon, O, J. H. Hatdgrove, James Truitt, T. H. Stansbury, John B. Wert and Westley Donaldson, also of Massillon and Z. B. Johnson, of Alliance, O, and take pleasure in certifying that they are men of good moral character and that full faith and credit are due and can safely be given to all the matters and things set forth in these several certificates in reference to the efficacy of the "Brazilian Remedy" for Hemorrhoids or Piles.

Witness my official signature and seal, the day and year above written.

ATHENS, ATHENS CO., O., August 10, 1859.

DR. C. W. ROBACK,

Dear Sir:—Permit me to say in relation to your Scandinavian Blood Pills and Blood Purifier, that I have used several boxes and bottles, and have found their effects on my system to be all that is claimed for them in your advertisements. I have also seen the effects of your Pills upon a child four or five years old, in expelling worms from the bowels.—One dose given the child, confined to the bed, and apparently very sick, caused the worms to come away from it in great numbers, and they were found crawling and scattered all about. The child thus relieved recovered immediately, and is now well and hearty.

"RIVERSIDE"
Lots For Sale.

That beautiful tract of land known as the

on the bluff west of Massillon, and on the western bank of the Tuscarawas river, together with the joining lands has just been divided up into town lots, which are recorded as the Riverside Addition to the town of Massillon.

The lots are of good size and will be sold at such easy terms of payment as to place a home within the reach of all. The beauty of the location is unsurpassed, and we believe it is a conceded fact that a location on the west bank of a running stream of water is always more healthy than one on the east bank.

It is apparent to all that the business and population of Massillon are very rapidly increasing; it is also apparent that public attention is directed to the west side of the river as the most desirable point for a home now in the market, or that probably ever will be in the market again. We think therefore that it is safe to predict that in a very few years this grand addition

RIVERSIDE,

Will be covered over with dwelling houses, which will be occupied by a large proportion of the busy citizens of the city of Massillon.

Every man who has a family or ever expects to have one ought to have a home in his own right then he will be independent, if not rich. A better opportunity will never again be offered of securing one so desirable, so cheap; and so easily paid for.

Also a very desirable out lot, of about eight acres, adjoining Massillon, on the Canton road, will divide well into three or four pasture lots. A few some be utiful lots in the east part of the city.

The plots may be examined, and lots selected at my store. [292] P. G. ALBRIGHT.

Mrs Hoskins would announce to the citizens of Massillon that she will have a PUBLIC SOCIETY at her house on Thursday evening, Sept. 2d, for the benefit of the well known and worthy couple, Mr and Mrs James. All who wish to contribute that sum are respectfully invited to attend.

Rev Geo F Stelling, of Harrisburg, Pa., will preach in the Presbyterian church in this city next Sabbath, morning and evening.

Rev J P Gould is now employed by the Stark county West Bible Society to canvass this district. We bespeak for him a cordial co-operation by the friends of the Bible cause. By Order of the Board.

The ladies of Massillon, who are interested in the matter, we understand are to have a meeting on next Saturday for the purpose of doing something toward fixing up and keeping in order the cemetery. They are to convene at the G A R hall, and it is hoped that a full attendance will be present, and efficient measures adopted to carry out the proposed work.

The last Beacon says of the Clinton and Massillon railroad—We learn from the contractor, Mr Thomas McGuire, that the iron is already laid from Clinton to Fulton, and the balance will be completed in six weeks. He has now 110 men and forty horses at work upon the grading, which is going right along.

So this desirable work is progressing rapidly, and it will not be long until we are in direct communication with Cleveland.

A little after noon on last Wednesday, the alarm of fire was raised, smoke proceeding from a dwelling house not far from the railroad on East street. Very little damage was done, as the flames were immediately suppressed. The fire machinery and companies were promptly on the spot, but their services were not needed.

Our former citizen, Mr Wm Hoover, conductor on the Pittsburgh and Chicago railway, and at present residing at Ft Wayne, has been paying his friends in our city a brief visit. He looks to be in fine health, and considers Massillon a first-class place.

Our informant was misunderstood in his reference last week to the roof of the new church. He only designed to convey the idea, that it should be fixed soon, and that no danger need be apprehended, for he intends there at worship several times a week.

The following are the officers chosen on last Saturday, at the Farmers Festival, to serve the coming year. Thomas Chapman, president; Samuel Cutler, Jas Moffit, John Christman, Joseph Hosler, Wm Skinner, Wm Mast, mer. J D Steel, Joseph Oberlin and Geo Archer, vice presidents; Caleb Marsh, secretary; Wm E Oberlin, Marshal.

The understanding was that the next annual meeting be held at the same place at the usual time. Every year it appears that this association is becoming a more permanent institution, and as it becomes older the gatherings of the people there are looked forward to with increasing interest.

This board of officers is authorized to transact all business of the association.

We have nine and nine societies among us the object of which are to obtain means of doing good; but the object of each one which appears in to-day's paper presents peculiar claims on the attention of our people. We allude to the dollar meeting which is to take place on to-morrow evening at the residence of Capt Hoskins. Every right minded person will commend its object, and we hope a large gathering of right feeling people will practically respond to the suggestions of the notice.

Two or three weeks ago we ventured to say that the Canton courthouse was coming to perfection slowly and surely to which the Rep & Rep responds very well, but is the worst no double thinks, thusly.

Bro Frost tells how some mischievous person or persons broke 40 grogshops in Massillon as evidence that Bro Frost's laudable efforts aimed at their extermination progress but slowly. Slow but sure is the saying latine in both cases.

Yea, verily. Patience and perseverance will do much, and when rightly directed, prevail. How about the sixty or 70 grogshops at Canton. There seems to be no "malicious" person there to oppose them. Do you surrender without an effort? We dont give it up so. We had just such haunts in a more than thirty year warfare with slavery, but no surrender was our motto.

We are steadily and gradually extending our facilities for printing, and in doing so find that our efforts are appreciated by the public. It is the design to continue these improvements, as our means and the wants of our patrons may warrant. So bring on your work, and we will attend to it promptly, and execute it in a satisfactory manner.

Save money and buy your goods of S Koch & Co at the opera house 318 2m

Quite a large number of our citizens, during last week, patronized the Canton Opera house, where they witnessed and were bewitched with the fairy spectacle, Aladdin, or the Wonderful Lamp. When we get our Opera house in running order we expect to have shows here which will induce our Canton neighbors to call and see us.

Russell & Co. are about to lay a railroad switch, which is to go right to their establishment, so that they may load their machines immediately on the cars from the shop, thus saving much labor and at the same time not being in the way by standing on any of the railroad premises.

A HARD CASE.—Bro. Garrison publishes his valedictory in the last number of the Alliance Monitor. In it he states with some degree of particularity the bright prospects which were some months ago held out to him in the way of business. He refers especially to the purchase of a steam engine, power press, type with which to print the Christian Standard, and other appliances, in these words:

"To forward the project of these people, I purchased a new steam engine, new power press, a full set of types of every necessary style, and with all the requisite furniture for getting out a large, first-class religious periodical. My outlay for the purpose was fifty $ $5,000, which being added to my already prosperous and efficient job office and establishment for printing the Alliance Monitor, placed me without a rival among local printers. But alas! in one short year the whole of this great college enterprise has so changed in Alliance as to require the removal of the Standard to Cincinnati—and that without indemnification to me for the losses I must sustain."

Very few prosperous business men could stand such a loss as is here referred to without feeling it very sensibly; but when it comes down on a printer, few of which trade can count their possessions by thousands of dollars, the lot is a hard one. But Bro. G. takes it like a philosopher, and casts no hard reflections upon anybody for this misfortune.

S Koch & Co, at the opera house have the finest and best selected stock of neckties and bows ever in town. Go and see them. 3m18

The parties who own that beautiful building, the Opera House, have about completed a most substantial and well finished flag pavement in front. Mr. J. G. Bucher, one of the proprietors, who has the general superintendence of the work, has had it done, all through, in superior style with elegant finish, so that every citizen of the place feels proud of the existence of such an edifice among us.

"Now we don't wish to disturb any sweet dreams of continued greatness the Independent may indulge in, but we do very much fear that the frosty concern is in the dotage of second childhood. With, as is currently reported from first class sources, a weekly circulation of less than five hundred copies, and the only paper published in the city, it would seem that there is most abundant opportunity for newspaper enterprise and the sneering allusions of the Independent to a thousand paid-in-advance subscribers is but another sample of the brilliant editorial gems presiding. To the closing assertion that Mr Garrison has decided, after consultation with first-class men, that the enterprise of a new paper would not be a first-class success, we have only to remark that Mr Garrison is coming, and will furthermore achieve success if energy, talent, and capital have power to accomplish the same. Prospectuses are issued, canvassing agents are at work, and Mr Garrison would have been here in person long ere this, but for the illness of a fellow craftsman preventing. Any further information the Independent may have of this matter from first class sources we trust it will give us in regard. Right under crushed."

In alluding to the above we scarcely know whether to attribute it to the old, the new or any of the other of the multitude of caterers of tit-bits from Massillon for the Rep and Rep—or whether it is the result of a joint effort of the entire corps. Certain it is with the rest, and as to whether the article speaks well was a good egg or not the reader must judge by the pecuniary raised. We have been the target of cowardly, unskilled battery before, none of which resulted in sending us over Jordan, and feel quite able to send a few more cracks from the same caliber of pop-guns. Doubtless the writer or writers imagined the production a smart first-class effort, and we may suggest to the authors to keep on working at it—be as personal as they wish—for where a writer descends to this style he has little use for fact or argument.

We regret to be informed that our fellow citizen, James Harsh, Esq., has for some time been prostrated with sickness. Although the attack is somewhat severe, his friends hope he may soon be better, and able to attend to the duties of his profession.

We are under obligations to E. A. Parrish, president of the Urichsville Agricultural Fair, on the 8th, 9th and 10th of this month, for a complimentary ticket.

The packet boat between this place and Dover has ceased running.

From the editorial column of the Leader of August 24th:

A very beautiful and costly burglar proof chest, all steel, with two combination locks, has just been added to the safe of the Ohio National bank in this city. The vault and safe of this institution before this addition was thought to afford the most ample protection against fire and burglars, but out of extreme caution this additional security has been added, and now we presume no bank either east or west has a more secure place for the deposit of its assets. The new steel chest was manufactured by the Detroit safe company.

No person contemplating a journey either by land or sea, ought to omit supplying himself with a quantity of Dr. Whittlesey's cure for sick Headache and dyspepsia—as preventive against the evils arising from the change of water, climate, &c.

A FAIR OFFER.

R. V. Pierce, M. D., of Buffalo, N. Y., is the proprietor of D. Sages Catarrh remedy, which he warrants to cure catarrh in all its stages. And further, he offers $500 for a case of that dreadful disease that he cannot cure. If your druggist has not yet got this remedy on sale, dont be put off with some worse than worthless strong snuff, fumigator, or poisonous caustic solution, but enclose sixty cents to the proprietor and it will reach you by return mail. For sale by most druggists everywhere.

Extract from a private letter from Hawaii, Sandwich Islands.

* * * * Although the eruption is not so violent now, the volcano is a fearful sight to behold. The rivers of lava still flow, and the smoke from the crater ascends in awful majesty. During this volcanic upheaval it has been very sickly here. A peculiar sort of low malarious fever, which has grown out of the foul, condensed vapors of the volcano, has prevailed to an alarming extent, and at one time it was feared it would depopulate the island. But fortunately, a sea captain calling here for supplies distributed Plantation Bitters to the suffering, and quick and thorough cures were the result. The news spread like wild fire. Messrs. Ching Takin & Co., Commission Merchants, had these Bitters for sale. In a short time their office was besieged and their supply exhausted. A steamer was dispatched to San Francisco by order of the Hospital Department, and a new and enormous supply obtained as soon as possible. From that moment the scourge was stayed. Not another fatal case occured, and the epidemic has entirely disappeared. * * * * Is this wonderful remedy known in your city? I hope so, for it is a sure cure for all fevers and miasmatic sickness. You may tell your friends so for me.

H M Pomeroy, of the La Crosse Democrat, on Roback's Stomach Bitters.

C W Roback, of Cincinnati, is making the best article of bitters now manufactured in the United States or elsewhere. We have used them for three years, and would not be without them for almost any money. In the spring his stomach bitters are worth hundreds of dollars for keeping the stomach in order, and cleansing the blood from its accumulated impurities. It is not once in two years that we endorse so-called patent medicines, but Roback's are worthy of all the praise we can bestow on them.

Ordinance No. 150.

An Ordinance authorising the clerk of the city of Massillon to supply the council and officers of the city with Okey & Miller's edition of the Municipal Code.

Sec. 1 Be it ordained by the city of Massillon, that the city clerk is hereby authorised and required to order from Messrs. Okey & Miller, of the city of Cincinnati, one copy of Okey & Miller's edition of the Municipal code for the mayor, one copy for the use of the marshal, one copy for the use of the city auditor, one for the use of the city engineer, one for the use of the city solicitor, and one for the use of each member of the city council, to cost in the city of Cincinnati not exceeding two dollars per copy.

Sec 2 That on delivering a copy to the members of the city council and to the officers above named it is hereby made the duty of the city clerk to take a receipt from each person to whom he shall deliver a copy, in which receipt the cost paid or to be paid shall be stated as the value thereof, conditioned for the return of the same to the city clerk on the expiration of the term of service of the person receiving the same, and in default of returning the same to pay the cost price thereof to the city.

Sec 3 This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the passage and publication.

Ordinance No. 145.

An Ordinance prescribing the duties of the city clerk of the city of Massillon.

Sec. 1. Be it ordained by the city of Massillon, that the city clerk, in addition to the duties he is at present required to perform as such clerk, according to the provisions of the act of the general assembly of the state of Ohio, entitled an act to provide for the organization and government of municipal corporations, shall do and perform all the duties required by law to be performed by the city auditor; and upon presentation to the city council or other branch of city government, of any bill, claim or demand against the city of whatever name, kind or description the same shall be referred to the city clerk, who shall forthwith carefully audit the same and report to the city council And no bill, claim or demand whatever, against the city shall be allowed or paid by the city until the same shall have been audited and officially certified by the city clerk to be due and owing from the city to the person or persons demanding the same.

Sec 2. That the clerk shall provide at the cost of the city a suitable book or books such as he may need, and in which shall be entered all claims, bills or demands against the city and referred to him to be audited, whether the same be by him allowed or disallowed, the name of the person or persons bonding the same or claiming the amount thereof, the date or time when the same was by him received and audited, and if disallowed, the reasons therefor shall also be briefly entered upon the journal in like manner. He shall carefully keep and preserve all books, records, journals, papers and proceedings of the city council, and shall certify all manuscripts or copies that may be required of any record or paper in his office, and shall attest any record or paper with his seal, and shall be entitled to receive therefor the same fees as are allowed by law to other officers for similar services, and no book, record, journal or paper belonging to the said clerk's office of which the city clerk is the proper custodian, shall be removed or taken from the office of said city clerk, except to use the same as evidence before the mayor of the city or some other judicial authority in said city, or elsewhere on a trial in which said city shall be party or be interested, or for the use of the city council when in session; but all books, records, journals, papers and proceedings of the city council, or said clerk, or connected with that office, shall at all times be subject to the inspection and examination of all persons interested.

Sec. 3 That in case the city clerk shall negligently or knowingly permit any record, journal, book or paper belonging to the city, and of which it is by law or by ordinance or custom, to be taken from the clerk's office for any purpose except as provided in section two of this ordinance, he shall be fined and pay the sum of Twenty-five dollars and cost of prosecution to be collected in an action before any court of competent jurisdiction.

Sec. 4 That for discharging the duties of city auditor, the city clerk shall be allowed and paid the same compensation as is allowed for his services as city clerk, and shall be paid quarterly in the same manner.

Sec. 5. That ordinance numbered one hundred and thirty-eight passed May 11th, 1868, be and the same is hereby repealed.

Sec 6 That this ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and publication as required by law.

Passed Aug 18, 1869.

Feather Dressing.

THE UNDERSIGNED offer to the citizens of Massillon and vicinity the most successful Feather Dresser ever offered to the public, it proves to be exactly what all conditions and qualities of feathers, even entirely new to old and much often need to render them as perfect as the condition of the feathers will permit of them being made. The cleansing is done entirely by steam, our facilities are such that we can take a bed and return it the same day, for the small sum of two dollars. Hair Mattresses renovated and made ready for use.

B. A. FAHNESTOCK'S

VERMIFUGE.

It is now over forty years since this medicine was offered as a remedy for Worms, and from that time its reputation has steadily increased until at the present day it is almost universally acknowledged throughout nearly all parts of the world to be the sovereign remedy. Worm Confections, made more for the purpose of pleasing the palate than of overcoming the disease, have been manufactured all over the country; but each short lived as all of these are nearly exhausted, and B A Fahnestock's Vermifuge continues to grow in favor daily. Children often look pale and sickly from no other cause than worms, and parents are most frequently the result of these hidden sappers and miners.

When they are irritable and feverish, sometimes craving food and eating ravenously, again refusing wholesome food, tossing restlessly in sleep, moaning and grinding the teeth, they be assured these symptoms are indicative of worms.

Uneasiness and pain in the abdomen, with swelling and hardness, are generally attendant upon the presence of these hidden sappers and miners.

A gradual wasting away or emaciation of the flesh is one of the most common attendants upon worms. They absorb the animal juices, and destroy the nourishment imparted to the stomach by wholesome diet, thereby occasioning a variable appetite and a strong desire for indigestible food.

The stomach was undoubtedly, a very great sympathy with other parts of the body. This is the case with respect to the irritation produced by worms, especially those existing in the stomach itself. They give rise to many violent diseases and patients are sometimes incredibly without being aware of the cause.

Many a child prematurely has been laid in the grave, when the disease which caused its death has been entirely misunderstood, and when worms have really been the cause. It has been proved beyond any that worms exist in the human system from earliest infancy, therefore parents—especially mothers, who are more conversantly with their children can not be too observing of the first symptoms of worms, in whatever form they exist, and they be speedily destroyed and removed from the most delicate infant, by the timely use of B. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge.

Physicians do not hesitate to recommend it and use it in their practice, and many of the most eminent of the profession, from all parts of the country, testify to its uniform success. In fact, it never fails. It has frequently been given to children as a safe purgative, not suspecting the cause of the illness, and to their astonishment worms were discharged and immediate relief afforded.

Great caution must be used by every purchaser, to be his own judge in one sense, and to examine every bottle he buys of it. The simple name of FAHNESTOCK is not sufficient. He must look closely and carefully to see that the initials are B. A FAHNESTOCK, and be satisfied with nothing else.

The Kidneys.

THE KIDNEYS.—THE KIDNEYS are two in number, situated at the upper part of the loin, surrounded by fat, and consisting of three parts, viz: the anterior, the interior, and the exterior. The interior absorbs. Interior consists of tissues or veins, which serve as a deposit for the urine and conveys it to the exterior. The exterior is a conductor also, terminating in a single tube, and called the Ureter. The ureters are connected with the bladder.

The bladder is composed of various coverings or tissues divided into parts, viz: The Upper the Lower, the Nervous and the Mucous. The upper expels, the lower retains. Many have a desire to urinate without the ability to retain; others urinate without the ability to retain. This frequently occurs in children. To cure these affections we must bring into action the muscles, which are engaged in their various functions. If they are neglected, Gravel or Dropsy may ensue.

The reader must also be made aware, that however slight the attack it is sure to affect the bodily health and mental powers, as our health and blood are supported from these sources.

RHEUMATISM.—Pain occurring in the loins is indicative of the above diseases. They occur in persons disposed to acid stomach and chalky concretions.

THE GRAVEL.—The Gravel ensues from neglect or improper treatment of the kidneys. These organs being weak the water is not expelled from the bladder but allowed to remain; it becomes feverish and sediment forms. Life from this deposit that the stone is formed and gravel ensues.

Dropsy is a collection of water in some parts of the body, and bears different names according to the parts affected, viz: when generally diffused over the body it is called Anasarca; when of the abdomen Ascites; when of the chest, Hydrothorax.

TREATMENT.—Helmbold's highly concentrated compound Extract Buchu is decidedly one of the best remedies for diseases of the bladder kidneys, gravel, dropsical swellings, rheumatism and gouty affections. Under this head we have arranged dysuria, or difficulty and pain in passing water, scanty secretion, or small and frequent discharges of water; strangury or stoppage of water; Hematuria or bloody urine; Gout and Rheumatism of the kidneys without any change in quantity, but increase of color, or dark water. It as always highly recommended by the late Dr Physick in those affections.

This medicine increases the power of digestion, and excites the absorbents into healthy exercise, by which the watery or calcareous depositions and all unnatural enlargements, as well as pain and inflamation are relieved, and it is taken by men, women and children. Directions for use and diet accompany,

Philadelphia, Pa Feb. 25, 1867.

H T HELMBOLD, Druggis:—Dear Sir—I have been a sufferer for upward of twenty years with gravel, bladder and kidney affections, during which time I have used various medicinal preparations, and have been under treatment of the most eminent physicians experiencing but little relief.

Having seen your preparations extensively advertised I consulted my family physician in regard to using your Extract Buchu. I did this because I had used all kinds of advertised remedies, and had found them worthless, and some quite injurious; in fact, I despaired of ever getting well, and determined to use no remedies hereafter, unless I knew of the ingredients. It was thus that I prompted me to use your remedy. So you advertised that it was composed of buchu, cubebs and juniper berries. It occurred to me and my physician as an excellent combination, and, with his advice, after an examination of the article, and consulting again with the druggist I concluded to try it. I commenced its use about eight months ago at which time I was confined to my room. From the first bottle I was astonished and gratified at the beneficial effect, and after using it three weeks was enabled to walk out. I felt much like writing you a full statement of my case at that time, but thought my improvement might only be temporary, and therefore concluded to defer and see if it would effect a perfect cure, knowing then it would be of greater value to you, and more satisfactory to me.

I am now able to report that a cure is effected after using the remedy for five months. I have not used any now for three months, and feel as well in all respects as I ever did. Your Buchu being devoid of any unpleasant taste or odor, is more tonic and invigorator of the system, I do not mean to be without it whenever occasion may require its use in such affections. Science Advances.

As soon as an article purporting to be of utility has been tested, and its merits endorsed by public opinion, unprincipled parties endeavor to replenish their depleted purses by counterfeiting, and substituting a spurious for the genuine article. Some time since mercury in the disguise of pills, powders &c., was given for all diseases of the stomach and liver, while quinine was freely administered for the chills. At length Hostetter's Stomach Bitters made their appearance, and an entire new system of healing was inaugurated. The beneficial effects of this valuable preparation were at once acknowledged and mineral poisons suffered to sink into that obscurity to which an enlightened age has consigned them. There have been many spurious bitters palmed upon the community, which, after trial, have been found perfectly worthless, while Hostetters has proved a blessing to thousands, who owe to it their restoration to health and for many years we have watched the steady progress of Hostetters Stomach Bitters in public estimation, and its beneficent effects as a cure for all complaints arising from the stomach, of a morbid nature and we are free to say that it can be relied upon as a certain relief and remedy. Its proprietors have made the above preparation, after years of careful study and sifting, and are now reaping the reward claimed by this valuable specific, and which they so richly merit. It is the only preparation of the kind that is reliable in all cases, and it therefore demands the attention of the afflicted.

Bring The Nations Nearer.

BY GEORGE W. BUNGAY.

Under the ocean waves afar,
Where the beautiful mermaids are (!)
Beyond the light of sun or star,
Or the sound of cannon's greeting,
The uncoiled cable lies unseen,
In the deep forests, still and green,
A fiery artery between
The continents, with lightning beating.

Lodging here on a mountain tall,
Leaning there on an island wall,
Arching above a crystal hall;
Touching the trees as green as laurel,
Sweeping for leagues the ocean bed,
Pulsing softly where sleep the dead—
But they need not a word that is said
Of the news in their tombs of coral.

Scaring the monsters up to the lees,
Bending the branches from the trees
Which grows in gardens under the sea.
Breaking down gray-haired oppression,
Reaching afar from sea to sea—
Touching with tidings "you and me."
Lighting a pathway for the free—
Kindling the torch of true progression.
The Cable brings the good time nigher,
And lifts the plane of culture higher,
And speaks with cloven tongues of fire
The varied speech of many peoples
Now high wings flash around the world,
Where hills arise and waves are curled
The flag of stars shall be unfurled.
And wave from reels and ringing steeples,

Fire comes from the firmament
And flames across a continent,
And lo! the flaming message sent
Solves the hard problem—makes it clearer—
That genius, culture, science, art,
Can bring the nations now apart,
In faith, and trust, and honor nearer

Head Quarters Department of Ohio.

GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC, U. S.
Adjutant General's Office,
Springfield, O., July 26, 1869.

1. At the Department Encampment held at Sandusky, Ohio, July 21, 1869, the following resolutions relating to the establishment of one or more Soldiers' Orphans' Homes were adopted, viz:

Whereas, The subject of providing a suitable home for the care and education of soldiers' orphans has long engaged the attention of this organization and the citizens of the state of Ohio therefore,

Resolved, By the semi-annual convention of the Grand Army of the Republic of the department of Ohio, that its commander of this department be, and he hereby is empowered and instructed to at once appoint a Board of Soldiers' Orphan's Home, to consist of seven members. The department inspector general shall be ex officio member of said board of control. As soon as practicable after their appointment, the department commander shall convene the board for organization, when they shall proceed to elect a president, secretary and treasurer, who shall hold their offices at the pleasure of the board. The board shall have power to adopt such rules for their own government as to them may seem best. The said board shall have power to select suitable places for the location of one or more institutions in which shall be gathered the orphans of our deceased comrades. They shall have power to make all the necessary arrangements for the erection of suitable buildings, the receiving of moneys and all else contributed by this organization and the citizens for the benefit of this institution. On the completion of the Home, and when prepared for the reception of children, the board shall have full power to appoint suitable officers for its management, the compensation they shall receive, and all needful rules and regulations for the government of the Home.

The members of the board of control, appointed under these resolutions shall hold their office at the pleasure of the department encampment, and in case of death, resignation or removal of any member of the board, the vacancy so created shall be filled by the department commander.

On the written complaint of three associates! any member of the board may be removed by the department commander and another appointed to his place; provided, however, the subject matter of complaint shall first have been examined into by the council of administration, the accused being allowed a full hearing in his own defense, and by them certified as approved to the department head quarters.

At such time as the department commander shall deem proper, he shall have power to add three ladies to the board of control, who shall have the same powers and perform the same duties enjoined upon the other members of the board of control.

All the powers usually exercised by directors of similar institutions, not mentioned in these resolutions, are hereby conferred upon said board.

The treasurer of the board of control shall be required to enter into a bond, with good and sufficient security, in such sum as the board may prescribe, for the faithful discharge of the duties of his office. The said Board of Control shall be required to make to department headquarters quarterly reports of the receipts and expenditures of these institutions and all other matters of interest relating thereto. And the department commander is hereby required to make the same public in general orders to the posts and by publication in some newspapers. Five members of the board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

Resolved, That we earnestly request the co-operation of the people of Ohio in this movement.

II. As empowered and instructed by the foregoing resolutions, I hereby appoint seven persons to constitute the Board of Control of the Soldier's Orphans' Home in Ohio, as follows:

Rev. P. P. Ingalls, Toledo, Ohio.
General James Barnett, Cleveland, Ohio.
Hon. L. D. Griswold, Elyria, O.
Col. H. G. Armstrong, Cincinnati, Ohio.
Gen'l Geo. B. Wright, Columbus, Ohio.
Maj. M. L. Gunkle Dayton, O.
Gen'l B. F. Coates, Portsmouth, Ohio.
Chaplain G. W. Collier, Fremont, Ohio, Ass't Inspector Gen'l, Department of Ohio, is ex officio member of said Board.

III. The members of said Board will convene at Springfield, Ohio, Tuesday August 3d 1869, at 1 o'clock P. M., for the purpose of organization, &c. A full attendance of members is desired at that time.

IV. It is expected that places competing for the location of a soldiers' orphan's home, will forward to these head quarters for submission to the Board of Control, their several propositions in order that the board may, as soon as organized, proceed to examine and determine upon a location.

V. To the public it may be said that already very liberal propositions have been made in lands and money, towards the location and establishment of such a Home, and contributions have been pledged for the erection of suitable buildings for a limited number of Soldiers' orphans. As soon as a location is determined upon, Chaplain G. W. Collier, Ass't Inspector General of this department will visit the different localities of the state and solicit the requisite means for the support, management and education of such number of soldiers' and sailor's orphans as may be collected together.

A Lost Nation.

Writer in the Natal Mercury, under date of February 2d, 1869, says, when treating of the ruins of Simbaoe:

"A day's march from Andowa, between two hills, at the end of a vast and fertile valley, are the ruins of Axum. To this day incredible flights of stone steps conduct the traveler up to the summits of the hills, in one of which are found deep grottoes and vast halls, cut out of the rock and ornamented with columns. There, according to the traditions of the country, is the tomb of the queen of Saba. The adjoining valley shaded by majestic trees, is filled by the remains of the city, consisting of huge blocks of stone. Very little of the debris reveal their former purpose. There may, however, be distinguished two groups of fourteen or fifteen obelisks, thrown down. Seven of them are covered with ornaments, and are not less than thirty-six feet in length. These masterpieces of ancient architecture reveal to us the fact of an ancient civilization in the heart of Africa, which has disappeared again thousands of years since. Niebuer tells us of a mighty Abyssinian empire existing here, mentioning in particular Saba, and says it was so powerful that even the Roman and Parthian strength could not prevail against it. This last statement was taken from a Greek inscription found among the ruins, engraved in stone. On the reverse side is another engraving, in some ancient language, which has not yet been deciphered. The savage tribes guard these ruins with jealous care. No living animal allowed to be killed in them, no tree permitted to be destroyed, everything connected with them being held sacred, as belonging either to a good or evil power. A missionary, who penetrated within a short distance of the ruins, writes: "In this country were also found some very old guns, in a hole in the mountain. We got one of these guns, and found it to have a wheel or side, with cogs or teeth, and a tradition exists that they came from these ruins. The Basutos often tell us, when asked if they acknowledge God, about the big stones in Banyai, where all created things are to be seen, even sphinxes, pyramidal shaped buildings, and catacombs.

What Shall We Do About It?

Well, now, let us come down to the practical question that comforts us; what are we to do about temperance? Well, clearly we are to deal with those who make drunkards as we should deal with men who should walk through a powder magazine with lighted pipes, or with men who hurl Greek fire through the streets of a town, or with men who should sell arsenic or any other poison to all comers who might ask for it. Some force or other should be put upon men who disregard all consideration but their own love of gain; some constraint imposed by those who suffer at their hands. The cause of Prohibition has an unpopular name just now, and perhaps the moral sense of the community will be long in accepting the idea of literal prohibition. But in some form or other that is the thing we must have. We must control by law the men who now deal with their poison in a free and irrepressible manner. We must come to see that they who deal in liquors are the men who bring upon us a large share of our taxes, fill a large share of our court rooms, and make many of our homes desolate. No one has a son growing up, but he watches his development with a passionate, fearful and unremitting solicitude lest he fall into the temptation for drink and sink into a drunkard's grave. And were we not demoralized as we are on the subject of temperance, every one would see that our laws which control all kinds of nuisances, which control the general safety of the community, should also control the sale of those destructive liquors.--Henry Ward Beecher.

Two Meals a Day.

If any man or woman, of forty-five or over, not engaged in hard manual labor especially in door livers, would take but two meals a day for one month, the second not being later than three in the afternoon, and absolutely nothing afterwards, except it might be in some cases an orange, lemon, or ice cream, or cup of warm drink, such as tea broma, or sugar water, there would be such a change for the better in way of sound sleep, a feeling on waking, of having retired, an appetite for breakfast, and buoyancy of disposition during the day, that few except the animal and glutton would be willing to go back to the flesh pots of Egypt.

Ben Wade, as he is familiarly called, one of the political lions of the west, has taken but two meals a day for twenty years; and if all sedentary persons, those who are in-doors a great part of the time would, after the age of forty five, observe the same inflexible rule, there can be no doubt, other things being equal, that long years of happy exemption from the ordinary ills of life would be the result. The reason is that the stomach would have time to rest, for recuperation, and would thus be able to perform its part more thoroughly, making purer blood, giving better sleep, and securing a good appetite for breakfast. Let any man try it for ten days, taking the second meal seven hours after the first, and abandon the practice if he can.—Hall's Journal of Health.

Oldest Prisoner in the Penitentiary.

The oldest prisoner in the Ohio penitentiary is John Gull, who has been in the institution about thirty-three years. He was convicted of murder in the second degree, in Stark county, October 14th, 1836, and sentenced to the penitentiary for life. The old man's mind has been somewhat impaired for a number of years, but he is considered perfectly harmless, He imagines that he goes out every night and come back loaded down with money. The almighty dollar seems to be his peculiar forte; and he always counts it by tons and millions twice over. In his own imagination he is the richest man now living.

Gull being a pioneer in the prison, is, of course, allowed many privileges not enjoyed by the modern denizens. He works at pleasure, eats by himself, goes to bed when he pleases, and allows no one to abridge his rights. He is an old fogy in every sense of the word, and nothing displeases him so much as modern improvements When the directors and warden decided to change the "Zebra striped coat" for black, Gull was highly incensed at the idea, and, to this day refuses to wear anything but the old style.

A person speaking of a drink he once had occasion to indulge in, says he could not tell whether it was brandy or a torchlight procession that was going down his throat.

It is found that the loss of currency by wear and tear is more than sufficient to pay the expense of printing and issuing it. The average life of a bank note is three years, and that of currency a much shorter time.

Brilliants.

Who discerns what is infinitely small? only one: Infinitely Great.

If one does not hold still when stung by a bee or by fate, the sting remains behing the wound.

Men, like their books, at their beginning and end have blank leaves—infancy and old age.

The odor of flowers is never so sweet and strong as before the storm. Beautiful soul! when the storm draws nigh thee, be a flower.

Old people are long shadows, it is true, and their evening sun lies coldly on the earth, but they all point to the morning.

Scatter flowers on the young maiden's coffin, ye weeping friends! Ye used to bring flowers on the birthday feasts. She is now celebrating the greatest of them, for the bier is the cradle of Heaven.

Many flowers open to the sun, but only one follows him in his course. Heart be thou the sun flower; but not only open to thy God, but obey Him too.

Man endures opposition and reproof more readily than we suppose, only he will not endure them when violent, even though they are deserved. Our hearts are flowers, they continue open to the gently falling dew, but closed against the storm.—Jean Paul.

A nice lawn in the country is a pleasant spectacle this hot weather, but a pretty lady in a pretty lawn is quite as attractive—to bachelors.

MANHOOD: How Lost, How Restored.
Just published, a new edition of Dr Culverwell's Celebrated essay
On the Radical Cure (without medicine) of Seminal Weakness, or Spermatorrhœa induced by Self-Abuse; Involuntary Emissions, Impotency, Nervous Debility, and Impediments to Marriage generally; Consumption, Epilepsy, and Fits; mental and physical incapacity, etc.
☞ Price in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents.
The world renowned Author, in this admirable lecture, clearly proves from his own experience, that the awful consequences of self-abuse may be effectually removed without medicine, and without dangerous surgical operations, bougies, instruments, rings or cordials—pointing out a mode of cure at once certain and effectual, by which every sufferer, no matter what his conditions may be, may cure himself cheaply privately, and radically.
This lecture will prove a boon to thousands and thousands.
Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, on receipt of 6 cents, or two postage stamps, by addressing the publishers.
Also, DR. CULVERWELL'S "Marriage Guide," price 25 cents. Address CHAS. J. C. CLINE & CO.,
